Repel Attack On Navy Base Admiral Believes Until More Men Could Be Sent In

Forces Would

By ELTON FAY AP Military Affairs Writer

GUANTANAMO NAVY BASE, Cuba (AP)—The top U.S. naval commander in this area said today defense forces now at the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo bay should be able to repel any attack until reinforcements can be sent.

Rear Adm. Allen Smith, commander of the Caribbean's 10th Naval District, told visiting newsmen, "the situation is tense because we are in a position of waiting for someone else to do

The admiral emphasized the United States is not pursuing any aggressive acts against Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

Castro has accused the U.S. government of planning some sort of provocatory incident to give a pretext for American military intervention in Cuba. U.S. officials have denied the charge, but President Eisenhower warned in a statement Tuesday that because of the Guantanamo base's "importance to the defense of the entire hemisphere," the United States "will take whatever steps may be appropriated to defend the base.'

Smith disclosed that mine fields were planted along the boundary fence of the 45-square-mile Guantanamo reservation several weeks

"The mine fields are labeled plainly," he said. "Dr. Castro has stepped up his tempo and we have taken steps accordingly. We have tighter."

On the other hand, living costs are 10 per cent lower in Houston than in the nation's capital. ### Tomcat's Lose Again; He's No Cattery Menace

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP) - The law stayed its hand and Herman the tomcat is on the town again.

Herman had been under temporary Municipal Court order restraining him from the female felines of a neighbor's cattery. This meant Herman was confined on leash to the company of a dog at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bowler.

The owners of the cattery, catty-cornered from the Bowlers, are Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Cook. They obtained the court order while suing the Bowlers for more than $1,000 damages they alleged Herman had done to their breeding stock.

The Cooks went to Superior Court Tuesday to get another rerestraining order to replace the expired Municipal Court order. But Judge Ralph Hoyt refused to grant it, ruling that no evidence had been adduced to show Herman was a menace.

Herman, out on the town for the first time in 10 days, slept most of Tuesday afternoon after his return home.

"He looked pretty tired when he came in," Mrs. Bowler told a reporter. "He's asleep now."

While prime interest in the election next Tuesday embraces candidates for political office, there are other matters of importance for consideration of the voters.

Locally, of course, is the ballot for the bond issue on behalf of a new Pettis County jail. This should be given open-minded consideration. For our part we favor the issue in order to correct a disgraceful situation. The cost to the taxpayer is insignificant. A two-thirds vote is necessary to pass this bond issue so those who favor it should be sure to give a supporting vote, not toss the ballot aside as is so often done at the polls.

Also to be considered are four Constitutional amendments which should have something said in their behalf. At this time we call attention to Amendment No. 1 which provides that in event of disaster in this state caused by enemy attack on the United States, the Legislature shall convene and provide for temporary succession of all public officers and for continuity of governmental operations.

Some may consider this far-fetched legislation for such a contingency, but it could happen - an attack on the capital at Jefferson City which might take the lives of state officials. Responsible authority for enforcement of laws, especially under such emergency and confusing conditions, must be maintained. Government must continue. The General Assembly should have emergency powers to provide by legislative enactment for the continuation of governmental authority and the continuity of governmental operations. This could include the moving of the seat of government and provision for preserving essential records.

Furthermore the amendment provides for the prevention of the abuse of powers by stipulating that such emergency powers become effective only in case of enemy attack, and that elections be held as soon as possible.

Amendment No. 1 is a practical one that should pass if voters who recognize its merits will but mark their ballot favorably

Foreign banks are withdrawing gold from the U.S.A. This is something that seems remote to our daily lives, for you and I cannot have gold. But the American dollar is actually a certain weight of gold; and even if our gold is largely buried in the ground, it is legally and psychologically a foundation of confidence in all our paper money.

Various reasons are given for this drain on our gold. Some say that our foreign creditors can invest to better advantage in their countries than in American stocks and bonds. If so, that is not frightening, although a poor compliment to the U.S.A.

TULSA (Okla.) TRIBUNE: Who Fed the Bear?-Westbrook Pegler, the chronic curmudgeon, has suggested that Dick Nixon had better start swinging on the Democratic record lest his overly-considerate campaign serve him as it did Tom Dewey. We go along Since one of the main selling arguments of Jack Kennedy is that under the Republicans American prestige has sunk we have been waiting for Nixon to ask how the power of Communism grew. So far we have been disappointed, and one of the most glaring inconsistencies in the Democratic campaign remains unspotlighted.

Mr. Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung owe more to the past Democratic leadership than to any other political power outside the Communist party, itself.

It was Mr. Roosevelt who granted recognition of Russia to Maxim Litvinoff and out of this recognition grew the great Red spy center on Washington's 16th Street with its branch offices throughout the western world.

It was Mr. Roosevelt who gave away the fruits of America's mightiest and costliest victory in three stages-at the conferences at Cairo, Tehran and Yalta, and particularly at Yalta. It has been pleaded that the agreements wouldn't have been so bad if Stalin had only kept his promises. But Russia's record on promises was obvious long before Yalta, and it ought not to have been hard to foresee the result of the fantastic agreement whereby America would pull back its troops in Central Europe and let Communist armies move in to oversee "free elections.

Mr. Truman went to Potsdam, admittedly a little confused and overwhelmed at his sudden elevation to the presidency, but it is amazing that as shrewd a poker hand as Harry failed to provide for any corridors to Berlin.

While Jack Kennedy demands that we do something about Cuba we haven't heard him refer to the collapse of free China, a vastly more devastating event. It came about after the advice of such people as Owen Lattimore overrode the warnings of General Wedemeyer and Pat Hurley. Aid consigned to Chiang's troops never arrived because a clique in Mr. Truman's State Department kept telling us the Reds were merely "agrarian reformers."

There, of course, was Alger Hiss sitting in the high councils of the Roosevelt-Truman administrations, and Harry Dexter White, and Noel Field-all making government policy for all they were worth. And the Reds grabbed the most populous single nation on earth, and they grabbed the Baltic states, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, East Germany, Rumania, Bulgaria and Albania. The Russians hold three representatives in UN General Assembly to our one, a deal Mr. Roosevelt But if it is because our foreign creditors made while he thought he could charm Stalin into sweet reasonableness.

> And now Senator Kennedy has the guts to poke his finger at Dick Nixon and ask howcome the Reds are so powerful. When is Nixon going to tell him howcome?

He can't be too liberal without perhaps losing the ultra-conservative Republican right wing.

Nixon can't afford to lose either wing. He needs all the Republicans he can get even though, while he can't win with them alone, he can't win without them.

The reason is there are more registered Democrats than Republicans. To win he'll need almost all of his own party, plus some Democrats and independents.

No wonder he has generalized

He had figured the percentages so carefully, even before getting the nomination, that as long ago as last April he let this much of his thinking be known, that if there was a downturn in the economy by November-and there has been-he didn't think the Republicans had a chance.

Khrushchev Action Awoke Voter to Communist Peril

By PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent Newspaper Enterprise Assn. WASHINGTON - The fact that foreign policy is the number one issue in the American presidential campaign is being attributed here in large measure to the grotesque performance of Russia's Chairman Nikita Khrushchev at the United Nations.

Authorities on the Communist menace in the United States--and the fight against communismbelieve now that this surprising development may be the most beneficial result of Khrushchev's stormy three weeks in New York. Says FBI Director J. Edgar

'The studied insults and diatribes of this deceitful and loquacious dictator-designed to belittle and embarrass the United States-have done more than anything else in the last decade to show Americans the seedy side of communism.

"Very literally, as no other person in the Communist movement could do, this supersalesman atheism has awakened America to the threat of communism.

This appraisal may provide a ready explanation why Cuba, Quemoy and Matsu have become principal issues in the debates between presidential candidates Richard M. Nixon and John F.

Quemoy and Matsu are threatened by Communist China. Russia's demands that Red China be admitted into the United Nations put the two countries in the same class. The rumored ideological differences between Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung now are obscured and there seems no choice between them.

Cuba is also being backed by Communist Russia. The bear-hugs which Khrushchev and Fidel Castro exchanged at the United Nations may have aroused many Americans to the Communist menace 90 miles from Florida. They crystallized anti-communism in this country at the very height of the political campaign.

The two American presidential candidates may be divided on the policies they would adopt toward Cuba, Quemoy and Matsu. They may both have been foolish in exposing their strategy in public, Workers You Can Afford To Hire! weakening America's position. Phone TA 6-1000.

This comes just at the time when the Communist party, USA, is going all out in its publications and propaganda to support Khrushchev. ### Catholic Writer Senses A Champion in Kennedy

In the North, the pamphlets and sermons are fewer, so that Cathohave shown little notable concern.

One can wander the campus of sation about the religious issue.

And if it is an upper middle class campus-where parents are monied-like Notre Dame, numerous Republican students are still in evidence, though the faculty has long been predominately Demo-

By WILLIAM SLAVICK

(DP&R Special Service) NOTRE DAME-Catholic anxiety of spring, dismay in September, is turning to anger-and Kennedy votes. For, after all, the nation had seemed agreed the Al Smith chapter was a disgrace.

It was not the Pope or American bishops who nominated Gov. Smith in 1928 or Sen. Kennedy in 1960. but the Democratic party-in free convention.

And if any Democratic group was less than eager to see Kennedy nominated it was the powerful Catholic politicians - Govs. Brown, Lawrence, DiSalle, Mayors Wagner and Daley, and Sen. Eugene McCarthy. Had they been able to control their delegations and public opinion, things would certainly have gone differently, but most were beaten into line before they even got to Los An-

And, after all, Catholic loyalty and patriotism have never been questioned on the battlefield or in Arlington cemetery. In disproportionately large numbers, Catholics die for their country, and their commitment to God and traditional moral and ethical standards make a significant contribution to the spiritual and moral strength of the nation

Yet, no sooner was Sen. Kennedy's nomination in prospect than the anti - Catholic forces mounted a sustained attack on all fronts.

The average Catholic layman, wearied of second-class citizenship, feels the religious question should have been settled by the July Democratic Convention.

And he feels, somewhat bitterly, that Nixon's request for a morasame league with Eisenhower as torium on discussion of the question was largely a selfish strategic move, one that should have been sion: Future Republican presiden- directed to the evangelical churches and anti-Catholic writers pects unless one of them is also rather than to their victim, Sen.

He is, however, dismayed, disgusted, and angered by the malice and distortion of current attacks. In the South, the Catholics are accustomed to Protestant tales. fears, and accusations-and even bear somewhat proudly a martyr complex. Only as the fall has worn on and despite a general silence in much of the Southern Catholic press has resentment grown, much of it directed at those Protestants who have for years paid little heed themselves to separation of Church and State as they have translated the moral code on gambling, alcohol, danc-

It's not too difficult to see how some people have confused genius and madness. Some of the world's greatest geniuses have been among the most peculiar. The poet Schiller used to plunge his feet into ice to stimulate his mental power. The philosopher Descartes buried his head in a sofa so he could concentrate better. Shelley wrote poetry while on the hearth-rug with his head close to the fire.
